Dear Daryn

Thank you for demonstrating Smart Move's Ezi drum moving system. As we discussed your product design has a number of advantages which will contribute to managing injury risk when handling heavy drums.

I consider the key strengths of your product to be ;

- Reduced manual handling demands.
- Reduced awkward positioning.
- Reduction in unexpected loading.

These factors have been identified by research as key injury risk factors in the workplace. This product is likely to benefit workers who need to manoeuvre heavy drums across a number of industries.

I look forward to seeing the future development and production of your product.

Yours faithfully
